

Lesle Allen grew up in Atlanta, Georgia, but moved to Texas to earn a bachelor's degree from Baylor University and a master's degree from Texas Christian University, both in Exercise Science. She is married to Jay and they have five children- one is a young married professional, two are in college while two remain at home. She is a homeschool teacher and has served in leadership positions in Classical Conversations of Jonesboro for the past 6 years. Jay and Lesle are second generation leaders of the family business of Allen Engineering and they are active members of Journey Church. Lesle enjoys reading, exercise, dance/theatre, sports, and anything that her children and husband are involved in.